

Board backs planning agency and road project

BY TRACI BONNEY
The board of supervisors informally agreed Thursday to back the creation of a new planning commission and to accept state funds for a road improvement project.

The board, along with supervisor-elect Howard Liza, met in a workshop with Gulf

Regional Planning Commission interim director Vic Frankiewicz, then with county engineer Larry Seal, to discuss the two topics.

NEW PLANNING COMMISSION

Frankiewicz told the board he needed a resolution from them that would call for the dissolution of GRPC and the creation of a new agency to replace it. He said that after the new agency, the Mississippi Coast

Planning Commission, is created, a nine-month takeover period will be necessary for the paperwork to be done and the agency to be approved.
He told the supervisors that the new agency will handle only those things GRPC presently deals with — planning and economics development. Other programs, such as those concerning the aging, will stay under the umbrella of the South Mississippi Planning and Development District, where they are currently.

Injuries result when driver misses turn

Bay St. Louis resident Marjori Matrang, 37, was admitted to Hancock Medical Center early Saturday morning after suffering injuries in a one car accident along the Waveland-Klin Cutoff Road, reported Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy Albert Biehl. According to Biehl, Matrang was riding with Kristen Olsen, 20, of Bay St. Louis, when Olsen drove her 1981 Datsun "straight off the road," near a curve, and hit a pine tree. Olsen was charged with driving under the influence and taken to Hancock Medical Center, by Biehl, where she was treated and released. Matrang was taken directly to HMC by Mobile Medic. The accident was reported at 3:02 a.m. (Photo by Thomas "Doc" Toups)

Local wetlands lobbying efforts in Washington appear successful

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Lobbying efforts by the Gulf Coast Wetlands Coalition in Washington were well received, reported Hancock County Port and Harbor Director Harold "Buz" Olsen.

Olsen returned to work this past week with renewed hope that proposed changes in wetland designations would be made within the next year.

According to Olsen there was much discussion on the need for wetlands regulations to be made at a local level where specific needs could be better understood and more quickly addressed.

"The question came up several times," Olsen stated, "as to whether wetlands should be a regional issue, under local control, or remain a national issue, under federal control."

"Present regulations treat all wetlands the same, even though they vary from state to state."

Olsen stated that proposed regulations will include function and value in defining criteria. This may or may not open up some of the wetlands to development.

"Here along the Coast we are virtually blocked from any further development because of the hydrological factor used in defining wetlands."

"Another sticking point was the compensation issue."

"We met with Congressman Jimmy Hayes of Louisiana who told us the federal government could not afford to pay every private property owner who has lost the value of their lands through wetland designations."

"He said means other than money must be found in order to make compensation a reality."

Possibly the most valuable result of the coalition's trip was Downtown merchants ask for dockside gaming

BY TRACI BONNEY

Residents may object, but many Bay St. Louis downtown merchants want dockside gaming on the beachfront.

Dock of the Bay owner Jerry Fisher presented a petition to the city council at its Tuesday meeting which he said about 95 percent of the downtown merchants had signed. The petition asks the council to consider allowing a gambling development on the beachfront in the Old Town area.

In the petition the merchants stress that they want the council to keep this development within the parameters of whatever recommendations

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Life gets more exciting

Many summers ago, when the digits of my age were the reverse in numerical value, I wondered whether my zestful feeling for life would be as great after I had reached the fall of my years. Frankly, I did not think there was any chance.

Now that my fall of life is here, there is no better time to pass judgment on one of the pivotal realities of our human existence. Yes, a resounding yes! That zestful feeling for life is alive and well and, amazingly, stronger than ever.

Many things drive this reality home with trip-hammer regularity and efficiency. Driving along several days ago, I turned the radio on in search of a baseball game. An oldy but goody which I had not heard in years came on. Brook Benton's rendition of "So Many Ways" led me to postpone the game.

The warm, touchingly real lyrics, the quiet, beautiful melody, the soulful rendering by a man who died an untimely death pulled my thoughts far beyond the romantic magic of the song to the perennial, transcendent realities of love.

Baseball was forgotten until long after the song had run its course. In fact, I turned the radio off as soon as the song was done in order to avoid letting any other melody or lyrics contaminate the memory and spell of that song.

As much as I enjoy baseball and other sports, and as much as sports contribute to the zest for life which we are addressing, the song took me several levels higher.

Thoroughly delighted, I discovered that I was overwhelmed by that excited, loving feeling about people and life which had not cooled over the years. But rather had become warmer, deeper and more meaningful.

On the other end of the musical spectrum, the choir at my parish of St. Augustine in New Orleans unexpectedly grabbed my attention and emotions during the Sunday Mass recently.

It is understood that the choir should always add a special dimension to the prayer, celebration, beauty and life of its congregation, but that incident was extraordinary, unique and startling in its sharpness, intensity and insight.

Something inside of me felt transfixed as the rapture of melody told of the wonder called life. One of the more electric expressions of life, gospel music simply joins classical music, jazz and sundry fold forms in a vibrant symphony.

That same day, a rare treat capped the earlier church experience with an indelible feeling of gratitude and appreciation. My mother, Gastonia, who is reeling under the weight of her ninety years and Alzheimer's disease, called me by name for the first time in about six months.

For all of us, mother is the first and last word whenever we deal with life and love. Yes, the zestful feeling for life burns unabated, finding only fresher, more intense flames.

While it is perhaps the most galvanizing and unifying expression of life, music is merely the external overflow of the innumerable vibrant and wonderful qualities of our minds, hearts and souls. Our zest for life cannot but intensify as long as we share the enormous riches within us.

Age is no object, no factor, except as a positive agent which uses the advantage of perspective across generations. Unbelievably, the totally-alive feeling of youth and the pulsating, tingling zest for life can and should peak with age.

Card of Thanks

The members of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 139 of Bay St. Louis wish to express a sincere thank you to those who helped make the Veterans Thanksgiving party a success.

Police toss pigskin for 'Toys for Tots'

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Law officers from throughout the county will play flag football Saturday in an effort to solicit Christmas toys for needy children.

Policemen from both Waveland and Bay St. Louis, and sheriff department deputies have joined and divided into two football teams.

Already whispers of odds are being heard throughout downtown Bay St. Louis.

There is the Hancock County Sheriff's Department team, said to be larger in size and with experienced college ball players, and then there is the Bay St. Louis Police Department team, said to be younger and more agile.

A parade from the foot of the Bay Bridge to J.D. McCullough Stadium will precede the game at 1 p.m. Santa Claus will be in attendance as will the Lawmen's Association, the Bay St. Louis Fire Engine, the New Orleans Saints' dance team, "The Saintsations" and antique cars.

Admission to the game will be one new or used (good condition) toy. At the field there will be face painting and two Mon-goose scooters given away.

Gulfview Elementary School's Parent/Teacher Club is sponsoring the school pep squad for additional cheering needs during the game.

A good time is guaranteed to the spectators.

Kick off time is 2 p.m. Come and support your favorite team and help make one child's Christmas a bit more magical.

Grand opening

Northgate Lumber Company and Jeff Bray Homes and Homesites are now open for business. Located at 16820 Kapalama Drive in Diamondhead, the two businesses are open Monday-Saturday 7 a.m.-6 p.m.

Law officials cite speed limits on unposted roads

BY TRACI BONNEY

Absence of a sign does not mean absence of a speed limit.

Investigator David Parker of the Bay St. Louis Police Department said city officers have stopped a number of speeders this week, several of whom claimed they did not know the speed limit and the road had no sign posted.

Parker said state law and a Bay St. Louis city ordinance set the speed limit at 25 miles an hour on city streets unless the limit is otherwise posted.

Waveland Investigator

James Varnell said the same holds true in his city. Unless otherwise designated, the speed limit is 25.

Hancock Sheriff's Investigator Nathan Hoda said the limit on county roads is a bit higher. On unposted roads or road segments, the speed limit is 55 miles an hour.

So, the next time you're driving, watch for a sign. If there isn't one, remember: 25 in the city, 55 in the county.

Otherwise, as Parker said, "Somebody might get a ticket."

HMC offers smoking cessation classes

Hancock Medical Center will offer the American Cancer Society's Fresh Start Program for people who wish to stop smoking.

The Fresh Start Program is designed to help participants stop smoking by providing them with all of the essential information and strategies needed to direct their own efforts at stopping.

The program focuses on an active pragmatic approach to quitting smoking. It consists of four one-hour group sessions that take place twice weekly over a two-week period.

The classes are scheduled for Nov. 12, 14, 19 and will conclude on Nov. 21 (The Great American Smoke-out Day).

All classes will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Hancock Medical Center in the classroom. There is no charge.

The program will be conducted by Mary Dempsey, facilitator for the Fresh Start Program.

To register for the Fresh Start Program, call the Marketing Department at 467-9091 ext. 2202.

ON PATROL

From Echo Staff Reports

CAR THEFTS

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda reported Friday the arrests of a Chalmette, La. woman and a Marion, Ky. man on two separate vehicle theft charges.

Hoda said Diana Lemenuier, 37, of Chalmette was arrested on November 5 for allegedly stealing a 1987 Ford Escort and Mark Travis, 33 was arrested November 6 for allegedly stealing a 1983 Chevrolet truck. Both vehicles were taken from the Diamondhead Community.

Each individual was charged with grand larceny and were incarcerated in the Hancock County Justice Facility in lieu of a $5,000 bond.

Hoda added that the Ford Escort was recovered, later that same day, in the Diamondhead Community, while the Chevrolet truck was seized, also on the same day as the theft, in Lamar County by the state highway patrol.

Hoda credited the quick report time of the vehicle owners as an assistance to the law enforcement efforts in the vehicle recoveries.

Wetlands

the contacts they made through the lobbying arena.

"A lot of us didn't know who existed until now. We met groups representing engineering, real estate development, private land owners, farmers and construction workers, to name a few.

"The environmental groups have a very strong and well organized lobbying effort. They work from a budget totalling $575 million. They are in support of the present regulations, requesting no changes other than stronger restrictions.

"We, on the other hand, are asking that the welfare of the community be included in the overview of wetlands protection. Jobs, homes, economic impact, must be considered.

"Even Hayes said, looking at the map of the Port Bienville Industrial Park, that things have gone far beyond the intent of the original law."

Olsen said the proposed changes in wetlands definitions are presently being tested by the four regulating agencies (the Soil Conservation Service, the Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and the Wildlife and Fisheries Department). A review of the test results are expected by January of 1992.

"There are many people who are unaware how wetlands legislation affects their lives," Olsen added. "No one really knows until they become directly involved.

"A man who purchased land years ago may not be able to even construct a garage on it today without mitigation. Yet he is required to pay taxes on it.

"The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) claims less than two percent of all completed permits filed are denied. But into this figure they do not calculate how many permits have been discouraged by the costly and lengthy permitting process.

"We have agencies on the state level that could handle the permitting process in less time and with more effectiveness than the federal government.

"We are not going to be able to get relief administratively. The law needs to be changed."

Olsen said support for House of Representatives Bill 1330 was increasing. Senators Trent Lott and Thad Cochran have joined others in support of 1330. Congressman Gene Taylor has not yet made a decision, Olsen commented.

"We need more people to become informed on this issue and to let their representatives know what they will or will not live with.

"We need to find that middle ground where we are ecologically sensible and economically realistic."

Olsen said his work with the coalition will continue as now their job is to solidify their efforts made in Washington, D.C. "We need to grow in mass and in support.

"Congress has said, no more studies after these last tests are completed. The time for a decision is coming.

"I believe our group did well in the presentation that was made. Clair Lauder, the executive director of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, spoke on behalf of the coalition and did a good job. We were able to get the right questions and hopefully we had the right answers."

Sign up Monday for military women's memorial

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Meg Hilliker of Bay St. Louis will be at Wal-Mart in Waveland, Monday, soliciting the names of all women who have served in the military for a memorial to be constructed in Washington, D.C.

Hilliker said the construction of the memorial was mandated by Congress in 1986 and is to honor all women who have served in the Armed Forces of this country.

The memorial will feature a computer data bank with photographs and records of all registered service women.

An auditorium within the complex will present a multimedia depiction of the history and contributions of women from the Revolutionary War to present day.

The memorial design will incorporate existing Arlington gateway structures.

This will be the first major national memorial recognizing the contributions of service women to the nation, Hilliker added.

A minimum donation of $25 is requested with each registration and will be applied to the cost of constructing the memorial.

Hilliker will be at Wal-Mart from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Tomorrow, Veterans Day, will be celebrated in Hancock County with a parade and patriotic speech.

The parade is sponsored by the Bay and Waveland American Legion Posts and is to honor all those who have served our country in the military.

The parade begins at 10 a.m. on Monday, and this is a time for all members of veterans organizations in the county to be recognized. I am hoping there will be a large number of spectators along the parade route.

The parade will form at Bay Middle School, and go down Carroll Avenue to Beach Boulevard; Beach to Main Street, Main to Second Street; and Second to Bay City Hall.

Featured speaker will be Lt. Roger Hansen, who was executive and operations officer of the 1355th Service and Supply Company of Bay St. Louis and Ocean Springs, which served so valiantly in Operation Desert Shield/Storm.

Lt. Hansen should have a very good message for Hancock Countyans to hear.

Our veterans are the reason we live in a free country today, and we must all remember, it was their sacrifices which has brought us and protects our peace.

I hope to see you at the Veterans Day ceremonies tomorrow.

Don't forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Chamber Pot scheduled from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Civic Center located on Longfellow Drive Monday.

The menu includes, red beans and rice, slaw, tea and soft drinks.

The red beans and rice are compliments of The Reef, who is this month's sponsor.

After you watch the Veterans Day parade and hear the speech at Bay City Hall, why not drop by the Civic Center and enjoy some red beans and rice and good friendships.

A dinner is for a donation of $4 each.

And you thought local football was over for the season.

Well, not really. Three more games are scheduled.

Two for the Mullet Bowl on Thursday at Bay High's stadium, matching Junior High teams Bay St. Louis and Picayune at 7 p.m., and at 5 p.m. Boyet Junior High from Slidell and Iberville's Warriors.

This game is sponsored by the Bay Athletic Club, and as many of you can recall, the Mullet Bowl has been very popular in years gone by.

On Saturday there will be a flag football game benefit for the Toys for Tots.

Teams participating will be the Hancock County Sheriff's office against the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

This game too, will be at the J.D. McCullough Stadium, and it will begin at 2 p.m. This follows a parade which begins at 1 p.m. at the Bay bridge.

Admission for this super game will be a toy from each person, and the toys will be given to the local Toys for Tots.

I think the local drug stores may have a run on liniment by Sunday.

Sounds like the game Saturday should be good, too.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Legislative redistricting maneuvers continue

Some strange political games with apparent undertones of the bitter House speakership battle were played in Jackson recently by a joint legislative redistricting committee which hastily signed off on a plan to redraw Mississippi's five congressional districts.

So strange in fact, the remap plan, supposedly designed by a black coalition group to protect the black voting strength of U.S. Rep. Mike Espy's 2nd District while compensating for the district's population loss, completely cuts Espy's residence in the city of Madison and his Canton office out of the 2nd District.

As the district was drawn, Espy would become a resident of U.S. Rep. Sonny Montgomery's 3rd District. Espy could move his residence into the new 2nd District, of course, but that would be rather embarrassing to a sitting congressman.

The point man in this maneuver was state Rep. Ed Blackmon of Canton, the chairman of the House group on the joint redistricting committee. This raised speculation that Blackmon, who is black, has ambitions to seek the 2nd Congressional District seat, which under the committee plan would be given a commanding 60.2 black voting age population. It now has a 54 percent VAP.

Blackmon, it is believed, was given carte blanche by House Speaker Tim Ford to push his own agenda on the redistricting committee as a reward for jumping on board Ford's campaign to ward off a challenge by veteran Rep. Ed Perry of Oxford for the speakership.

More than half of the members of the House Black Caucus are already committed to support Perry. Ford apparently hopes Blackmon can now lure some of them away from Perry.

Meantime, Espy was obviously disturbed by both the racial makeup of the congressional redistricting plan brought forth by the state legislative committee and the nuances that the drawing of the plan and had gotten involved in the House speakership fight.

Espy and other members of the Mississippi delegation in the U.S. House had agreed on a remapping plan on Oct. 2 which kept the black VAP in the 2nd District at 54 percent, and preserved the black percentages at about the existing levels in the 3rd and 4th districts.

The legislative redistricting committee junked the congressional delegation's recommendations and considered only what was billed as the "Oct. 28 compromise" that was heavily imprinted by Michael Sayre, an attorney for a Greenville-based community action group, who is associated with Blackmon in a legislative apportionment lawsuit.

The so-called Oct. 28 plan—which is what the joint committee adopted—reduces the black VAP in the 4th District by 7 percentage points, from 41 to 34 percent and makes the 3rd District several percentage points whiter.

"You would slaughter the black representation in District 4 and District 3, and the long term interests of Democrats in holding those seats would certainly be in jeopardy," Espy declared.

Espy was narrowly elected to the Delta 2nd District seat in 1986, but handily won reelection in 1988 and 1990, the last time getting 45 percent of the white vote. Obviously, the 54 percent black VAP in the 2nd is no handicap to a black candidate such as Espy with broad appeal to white voters.

To increase the black VAP in the 2nd District to 60 percent, the committee-adopted plan would pick up some 50,000 black voters in the city of Jackson, a move which Espy fears would reorient the character of the district away from a basically rural-Delta district to a more urban one.

Espy said he preferred to think that it was "not a calculated move" to leave his residence out of the proposed new 2nd District and to significantly expand the black percentage in the district. "If anyone is salivating for my job, they are a little premature. I'm not going anywhere," he said.

The congressional remapping plan adopted by the committee, Espy said, "was not a consensus plan" and gives no consideration to three key players—the governor, the congressional delegation and the Democratic Party.

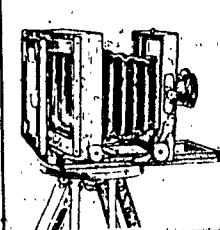

"It's not over yet," the politically shrewd Espy declared.

The Teacher, Miss Virginia Bourgeois and her pupils, armed with brooms and rakes, assembled for work at the usual class hour and after vigorous efforts succeeded in clearing the grounds of debris—the result of recent high tide, and now the campus with its picturesque and stately oaks presents a neat and pleasing appearance, and the pupils are enjoying their games free from danger. The daily attendance of the Edwardsville School has reached a high mark or 35 pupils. The following pupils are enrolled: boys—Chester, John and Joseph Favre, Julius, Edward, John Charles and Justis Price, Louis, Albert, Edwin, Forest, Henry and Lucien Favre, George, Lawrence and Alvin Luzenberg, Girls—Edna Favre, Rita Eagan, Lillian, Elizabeth, Mabel, Eleonise, Cecile, Azalia, Carrie, Catherine and Zoe Favre, Myrtle and Vivian Fayard, Myrtle and Edna Luzenberg, Eloise Tartavouille and Beatrice Favre.

The national election is over, Republicans aided by the deserters of the Democratic party have obtained control of the national government for a term of four years. Money played a prominent part in shaping the result of the great election, and there is no cause for brooding, as the election four years hence will be more than apt to reverse the decision.

Merchants

feasibility/zoning consultants Paul Buckhurst and Hawkins Stern set forth.

Fisher said Friday that about 60 merchants have signed so far and more signatures are expected.

"I want business downtown," he explained, "and that's what the other merchants downtown want, too."

"I haven't had a sheltered life. I've played (music) in some of the casinos in Lake Tahoe, Las Vegas and Reno."

"(Gambling) is not what most people think it is. It's bringing in people with discretionary income. It's bringing in a nice crowd, an older crowd of people."

"All these fears and misconceptions are unfounded."

Fisher said he and the other merchants don't want to see some Atlantic City-type development come into downtown. On the contrary, he stated, they want a small development that will attract tourists without overloading the roads or businesses in the Old Town area.

"We're not fighting for gambling. We're just fighting for our existence downtown. We're fighting to bring in something that will attract tourists, that will bring them into the other businesses and get them to spend their money there."

Board

MCPC is being created, Frankiewicz said, to more fully represent the concerns of the three coastal counties. GRPC and SMPDD represent about 15 counties in South Mississippi.

He assured the board that local governments will not lose EDA money obtained through the two present agencies' work.

After some discussion, the supervisors all said that at the November 18 meeting they will supply Frankiewicz with the needed resolutions, one calling for the creation of MCPC and one for an interlocal agreement between the county government and the new agency to "tie down the technical details," as Frankiewicz said.

TEXAS FLAT ROAD

Seal started his talk with the supervisors by reminding them of what has happened to date.

In July, the state Department of Economic and Community Development committed $5 million to Hancock County for the improvement of Texas Flat Road from Hwy. 603 to Hwy. 607. The county's proposed project had a price tag of $6.2 million, so 2.9 miles of the road were omitted from the project.

The state agreed with this, on the conditions that the county provide $500,000 for the current project and that the county pledge the funds to complete the other 2.9 miles within five years after the initial project is finished and accepted.

Seal reminded the board that the funds pledged may come from the county's state aid allotment, which is the source of the $500,000 for the present phase of the project.

He also told them that NASA has earmarked funds to build another entrance to the Stennis Space Center near the intersection of Hwy. 607 and Texas Flat Road. This will give direct access from the space center to Stennis Airport, he pointed out.

Supervisor Robert Peterson voiced concerns that he didn't want the board to put itself into a position where it might have to raise local residents' taxes in the future.

Seal reminded the supervisors that all of the money for this project is coming from the DECD and the State Aid office. At the worst, he said, if the project does at some future time fall through, the county will not have lost any of its own money.

Both Wilmer Seymour and Mike Ladner said they felt it was too good an opportunity to pass up, and the other board members concurred.

They decided that at their November 18 meeting, they will vote to proceed with the improvement project.

Tigers cage Bearcats, 13-0

BY RANDY PONDER

The Bay High Tigers ended their most successful football season in years with a 13-0 victory over the Long Beach Bearcats Friday night in Joe D. McCollough Stadium.

Bay High looked sharp from the start, taking the opening kick and mounting a 15-play drive to the Bearcat 14 before coming up just short on a fourth down play.

Following an exchange of punts, Gerrit Carver, who has played well all year, recovered a Long Beach fumble at the Bearcat seven.

Jason Loiacano pounded the ball in for the score three plays later from the one as the Tigers claimed the lead. Loiacano split the uprights on the PAT and in spite of the bitterly cold and windy conditions, a confident Tiger team was on top 7-0.

The next Bearcat possession also ended in a fumble. Brennan Compretta made the recovery at the Tiger 49.

Bay High started this drive with a handoff to Loiacano for a 14 yard gain to the Long Beach 37. Adrian Whavers carried on two consecutive plays for eight yards. Quarterback Sam Shepard then picked up a first down to the Bearcat 26.

Dwayne Antoine gained three on the next play as the Tigers kept the Long Beach defenders guessing as Bay High utilized a multiback attack.

A handoff to Whavers moved the football to the 17 and another first down. With 1:28 remaining in the first half, Long Beach called time out to try to devise a plan to stop these aggressive Tigers.

When play resumed, Shepard put up the first pass of the ball game. The pass was caught, but the receiver landed out of bounds.

On second down, Shepard was sacked for a big loss, all the way out to the 23. A third down pass fell incomplete.

Jeff Hopgood attempted a 38-yard field goal. It was wide right. The Bearcats took over as the half ended.

Long Beach put a scare in the Tigers to start the last half of the game.

Starting at their 30 after the kickoff, the Bearcats ran three plays for nine yards. Then on fourth and one, an exceptionally good spot by the officials helped them pick up a first down by half the length of the ball.

Ramon Johnson broke loose on the next play and if not for a saving tackle by L.C. Curry, would probably have scored. Bay High was also guilty of a personal foul on the play. With the penalty yardage tacked on, the Bearcats had a first and ten at the Tiger 14.

Instead of taking advantage of their opportunity, the Bearcats fumbled the ball away. The ever present Brennan Compretta recovered the loose ball to end the threat.

With the wind in their face, the Tigers mounted their longest drive of the game. A 17-play, 88 yarder that burned nine minutes and 56 seconds off the clock.

Whavers started the drive with a carry for six yards. Loiacano advanced the ball to the 24 and a first down. A big run by Whavers moved the Tigers to the 40 and another first down.

Loiacano followed with a three-yard run and Whavers gained one a play later. Then behind excellent blocking, Whavers took a pitchback and raced to the Long Beach 42 and another first down.

The Tigers appeared unstoppable as the offensive line continued to open big holes for the running backs.

Whavers carried again, this time for four yards. Shepard called his own number and gained five more yards. Loiacano earned the first down with a run to the 31.

The drive almost stalled here as three runs netted only nine yards and Bay High now faced fourth down and a yard to go.

The Tigers picked up the first down the easy way as the Bearcats were penalized for being off sides.

Before the next play could be run, Bay High was flagged for illegal procedure, moving the ball back five yards.

A handoff and then a pitchback to Whavers moved the ball to the seven and brought up third and one. Loiacano got the first down on a carry up the middle.

Dwayne Antoine finished the drive with two carries, the first Cold, cold, cold!

In a scene more reminiscent of Green Bay, Wis. than Bay St. Louis, hardy fans braved the wintery elements to cheer on the Tigers to a 13-0 victory over the Long Beach Bearcats Friday. Bay High finished the season with five wins and five losses, their best record since 1987. (Photo by Randy Ponder) for two yards and then in for the touchdown on a good second effort through the middle of the Long Beach defense.

Bay High went for two after the score and appeared to have it as Shepard dived into the endzone on a rollout to the right. But the officials called the play back for illegal procedure. The ensuing kick was partially blocked and was no good as the Tigers maintained a 13-0 advantage.

After an exchange of punts, Kris Roberts intercepted a desperation fourth down pass to set up the final Bay High possession.

With the ball on the Long Beach 44, the Tigers drove down to a first down at the Bearcat 11 with only 42 seconds left in the game.

Bay High took a time out to make a few changes in their backfield. Instead of Loiacano or Whavers behind the quarterback, the weary Bearcat defenders now had to contend with Jeff Hopgood and Keith Corr, defensive backs turned running backs!

Corr carried for three yards much to the delight of the few hardy spectators remaining in the cold, windy stands.

Then on the last play of the game, Hopgood banged the ball up to the goal line. Jeff was determined to get across but the officials ruled him down just short of the endzone as the buzzer sounded.

"This is a good way to end the season," a happy Rocky Gaudin said after the game. "I'm very proud of this team, we've worked hard for two years to get to where we are," the Tiger coach added.

"This was a blue collar game. We played good, solid defense and offense. This team has matured. They are to the point now that they expect to win," Gaudin said. "We've accomplished a lot this year, not just winning games. We have a new field house. We were in the playoff hunt until last week. We have great parent and fan support," Gaudin added.

"Probably our biggest surprise of the season is the play of Sam Shepard and Adrian Whavers. Neither one was expected to be a starter," the Tiger coach concluded.

Bay High finishes the year at 5-5, their best record since the 1987 team went 6-4. The shut-out was their first since a 32-0 win over St. Martin in 1987 as well.

Adrian Whavers finished the game with 123 yards on 14 carries. Jason Loiacano gained 93 yards on 12 carries, scored a touchdown and kicked an extra point.

Way to go Tigers!

FEAR ALMOST COST ME EVERYTHING I LOVE!

Like most people my age, I knew all the warning signs of cancer, but fear kept me from going in for a checkup. I was more afraid of knowing the truth than I was of cancer itself.

Now, I feel so foolish. My procrastination and fear almost cost me my life and everything I love. But I was lucky.

My doctor at Slidell Memorial Hospital, once I did go in, carefully explained that early detection and prompt treatment offer the best hope for a full recovery. Cancer, if ignored and untreated, will continue to invade and destroy healthy tissue, increasing your risk and the possibility of complications.

The Cancer Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital uses a multidisciplinary approach to bring together all the people and resources needed to successfully diagnose and treat cancer of any kind.

Skilled physicians, specially-trained nurses and experienced staff utilize the newest, most advanced technology and techniques to provide services and programs designed to make living with cancer easier on both patients and their families.

Hawks breeze over Rocks

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock High's Hawks have made it to the playoffs for the third straight year by defeating the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, 36-14.

The tempo of the game was set with only three seconds off the clock, as Hancock lead by the score of 2-0 on a safety. On the Hawk kickoff, a Rock receiver took the ball in fair territory and then crossed into the end zone for the safety.

An elated Irvin Favre, Hancock High head coach praised his team saying, "We feel good, we played a great football game."

on their 35-yard line.

A Jeff Favre pass to Dennis Malley moved the ball to the Rocks' 32. Doyle moved to the 20 on a run, and three carries by Malley led to his second score with 11:57 left in the second quarter, giving Hancock a 16-0 lead.

The Rocks turned the ball over on downs once again to Hancock, and Stanislaus got some encouragement as Mike Lee picked up fumble for about 40-yards moving to the Hawks one-half-yard line.

Thrilliley crashed over for and I am telling you, that is about the best thing I can explain, these kids played a great football game against a good football team."

"I thought we played great defense all night, we did well against their throwing attack, we did great on offense to score that many points. It could not have happened at a better time, as it put us in the playoffs, we had to win and we got help out of Pearl River Central, so we are happy," Favre added.

The victory gave the Hawks a 6-4 season with a 4-2 record in Division 8 Class 4-A play.

Stanislaus finished the season at 5-5, after a fast start with a 5-1 record early on.

Pearl River Central defeated d'Iberville Friday night, and the Warriors ended the season with a 7-3 and 4-2 conference record, but, Hancock defeated d'Iberville earlier in the season 35-22 to get the playoff nod.

Hancock will play Stone County the Division 6 Class 4-A champions Friday night at the Perkinston stadium with kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

It was a cold, very windy night, as spectators bundled up in jackets, overcoats, hunting suits, blankets and fur lined hats for Friday night's game. Hot chocolate was the favorite halftime drink.

Favre would not single out the score and Lee ran for a two-point conversion closing the gap to a 16-8 lead by Hancock.

The balance of the second quarter action saw one threat by Hancock which was stopped on a wide field goal.

The best defensive quarter of the game was the third, as both teams' defensive units shined with some spectacular plays.

The Hawks scored in the fourth quarter with 11:05 left in the contest when Favre ran in on a keeper to his left.

Stanislaus started a good drive and was stopped on the Doyle racked up 97-yards in nine carries and Vince 91-yards on seven attempts for the Hawks.

Favre completed five passes for Hancock netting 135-yards, and ground attack totaled 263 yards.

Hancock had 15 first downs to the Rocks' nine.

In commenting about the game with Stone County next week, Favre said, "I know the Hawks will be underdogs next week, but we will go up there and give it our best shot."

any outstanding player in the game, just saying, it was the team effort of the defensive and offensive members who played the game.

Both coach Favre and Stanislaus head coach Ken Lyons should be commend for the play of their players that made it an exciting football game.

Even in the cold weather, in the heat of the conflict, both teams showed super sportsmanship, the respect for each other and adhering to the rules of the game was superior, as there were few infractions and these were offside calls.

Scoring for the Hawks were, Dennis Malley, two one yard TDs, Jeff Favre, four-yard run, Bobby Doyle, 41-yard pass interception, and Jeron Vince, a 40-yard run. Malley also added four PATs.

Stanislaus scoring was a one-yard run by Tate Thrilliley, an eight-yard TD and a two-point run for a PAT by Mike Lee.

Stanislaus had to punt after the Hawks got on the board with the safety and Hancock came storming down the field, only to be stopped at the Rock four-yard-line with a fumble recovery by Trent Terrell.

SSC picked up a first down and had to punt giving the Hawks the ball on the Rocks' 37.

Doyle set up the first Hawk touchdown with two first down runs with Malley scoring his first TD, giving Hancock a 9-0 lead with 4:21 left in the first quarter.

Stanislaus moved for two first downs before bogging down and Hancock got the ball back interception TD by Doyle, and a PAT gave Hancock a 29-8 margin.

Not to be denied, several nice runs by Lee and Thrilliley, a pass completion to Mickey Quinlan engineered by quarterback Dreher completed a long drive of 13 plays with Lee going over for a eight-yard score. The two-point PAT was foiled, giving Hancock a 29-14 lead with 4:48 left in the game.

Vince capped the last score on a 40-yard run, and the Malley PAT gave the Hawks the final score of 35-14 with only 1:09 left in the game.

Hancock Women's Club

The Hancock Women's Club will meet at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 14 at the Waveland Library.

Guest speaker will be Bill Stacey, executive director of the Mississippi Sheriffs' Boys and Girls ranches.

Members are reminded to bring items of staple foods to the meeting for donation to the Hancock County Food Pantry, which has stated that there have been more persons requesting assistance lately, so donations are urgently needed at present. With Thanksgiving so near, perhaps donors would like to offer foods appropriate to the holiday season.

Hancock County Humane Society

The second season of "shot days" began with a bang. With the assistance of Humane Society members Julie and Harry Brown, Thyla Rogers, Madison McKinney, Barbara Moody, Ardley Hanemann, Yvonne Hasney, Sue Lamb and Allyson Keller, Dr. Andrea S. Mullen, DVM of Waveland once again inoculated hundreds of dogs. This was done in the back yard of the Humane Society's Flea Market on Hwy. 90 and Drinkwater Drive in Bay St. Louis.

Our second "shot day" of the series will be coming up in the next few weeks. This day will be for cats only.

We ask all the cat owners who cannot afford to take their pets to the office of a veterinarian for the necessary shots, to please avail themselves of this service.

We can protect your cat from rabies and most of the diseases that threaten their health. The first step is for you to bring them to us.

Poppy Girls

Criminal justice issues to be discussed at Gulfport forum

One of the hearings will be in Gulfport beginning at 5:30 p.m. at West Side Community Center, 4010 West Beach Boulevard.

Questions regarding the hearings or the function of the Mississippi Criminal Justice Task Force should be directed to Dr. LeFlore in Hattiesburg, at 266-4509 or Pam Vanderburg, project coordinator, in Jackson at 987-1583.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 and staff of Hancock Medical Center sponsored a safe and happy Halloween party.

Jeanie Moran and staff of HMC decorated the lobby and cafeteria with a Halloween theme. Pat Gillan, chairman of the children and youth committee, Genevieve Cole, Oris Planchard, Ursula Favre, Roslyn Weathers and Shirley Clemons treated the little people and parents to goodies donated by the ladies. Joy Gillan, a Junior Auxiliary member, also helped with serving and cleaning.

As the children and parents left, they thanked the auxiliary and HMC for their treats. A record number of 300 treats were noted. The auxiliary thanks neighbors and friends for making this event another successful and safe one.

On Thursday, Nov. 7, the auxiliary co-hosted by Roslyn Weathers and Oris Planchard, had a sing-a-long for the residents of Hotel Reed Nursing Center.

Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano, Roslyn Weathers led the singing and Oris Planchard and Pat Turnipseed went among the residents to visit and encourage them to join in the activity.

Beth Gruzinskas, director of activity, had the dining room decorated festively, and was pleased to see the response of the residents. Refreshments were served and the residents enjoyed the oldies but goodies, hymns and patriotic songs.

Presbyterian Church hosts 'Spirit Alive'

Special to the Echo
Spirit Alive, a congregational renewal, is being conducted at the First Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) of Bay St. Louis now through November 12.

A visiting team of both lay persons and pastors, working with the local minister, the Rev. Richard Jones, and the local coordinators, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Ling, are bringing spiritual revitalization and growth.

All interested in participating, even if not members of this church, are encouraged to do so. Please contact the pastor or the lay host coordinators to be sure that space is available.

Spirit Alive is designed to be a three-year program, although a fourth year is under development at the urging of a number of churches which have already completed the initial three-year phase. It is an expensive gift from the Presbyterian and Reformed Renewal Ministries, International (PRRM) based in Black Mountain, N.C.

Heading up the PRRM team for this Spirit Alive is the Rev. Carter Blaisdell, the national coordinator for Spirit Alive and also the associate director of the PRRM.

Prior to joining the PRRM staff in 1979, he was a pastor in Lawton, Iowa and Portage, Wis. While in the pastorate, he became aware of his need for a closer relationship with Jesus Christ and, in the process, discovered that the direction of his life and his ministry was changed by the Holy Spirit. He is a graduate of the University of California, Berkeley (1959) and McCormick Theological Seminary (1965).

Undertaking the preaching responsibilities is the Rev. James Henry Logan, who is the pastor of the South Tryon Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, N.C.

Logan did his collegiate work at Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, and his master's of divinity at Princeton Theological Seminary. He is presently working a doctor of ministry degree through Columbia Seminary.

In Charlotte Presbytery, he served as co-moderator in 1990 and is presently moderator of the African American Caucus of the Presbytery.

Heading up the worship (music) is a father-son team from New Orleans, Paul and Jim Lapeyre. The very talented Raggedy Butterfly from Creston, Ohio is teaching grades four plus.

Teaching the younger children are Cal and Karen Smith of Waveland. Also on the visiting team are the Rev. Andy Buchanan of Charlotte, N.C.; Jim and Evelyn Monroe of Eagle Lake, Fla.; John and Nancy Newton of Thibodaux, La.; and Raymond and Kelly Oehrle of Madison, Ala.

The host pastor and his wife are the Rev. Richard and Alice Jones of Bay St. Louis, and the host lay coordinators are Ed and Sue Ling of Pass Christian.

Others in the local congregation serving on the Spirit Alive committee are Harold and Bea Eddins, Gus and Marion Rapp, Mike and Carol Manley, Helen Cazaubon, Jim and June Johnson, Juel Gabe, Kathy Mauffray, Ray and Kay Coleman, Alice Hondzinski, Susan and Conrad Howe, Donna and Steve Southern, Vonnice and Chris Bodenschatz, Warren Sick Jr. and Sr. and Agnes Sick, Alice Jones and Tina Thompson, Charlene and Bob Bergman, John and Kay Covode, and Jackie and Bob Riddle.

Today, the visiting team will teach Sunday School. The worship service will be the regular order of service, with PRRM providing the guest preacher on the topic, "Jesus is Lord."

In the afternoon, visitations will be conducted by mixed visiting and local teams to shut-ins.

This evening, another worship service will be held, this time on the theme "Worshiping the Lord," to be followed by both children and adult fellowship.

Monday, Nov. 11, coffees will be held in the homes of Mrs. Eleanor Hill (for women) and Mrs. Lucimarian Roberts (for couples). Separate men's and women's luncheons will follow, the ladies at The Reef Cafe, the men at the Galley at the Waveland Resort Inn.

Visitations will again follow, the evening worship service being centered around "Deepening Your Prayer Life," which will have fellowship groupings afterwards.

On Tuesday, Nov. 12, a men's coffee will be held at the home of Gus Rapp, one for the ladies at the home of Mrs. Sharon Loicamp. That evening another congregational pot-luck will be held, followed by a worship service and a sermon entitled "Power of Forgiveness." A farewell reception will follow in the Fellowship Hall.

Through this mission, personal faith will not only be taught but experienced. The atmosphere is open and alive, both in the general meetings and informal small group meetings, all of which helps to develop a love, an acceptance, an encouragement for all who participate.

In this type of Christian witnessing and caring fellowship, many people discover the reality and power of God's presence for them as individuals. Furthermore, they see the Holy Spirit at work in the lives of others.

In this way, through this Spirit Alive, an additional opportunity is given to the church to the work of the Holy Spirit in a sensitive and responsible way. This can lead members into a more powerful witness and a more effective service for Jesus Christ.

LET'S HONOR THOSE WHO HAVE RETURNED FROM THE BATTLE

While all throughout our history Our heroes fought to keep us free, Sometimes conditions will demand The liberation of some land, With allied nations, to defend The rights of others who depend On those of us who, on request, Will always rescue the oppressed. Our troops were recently released From service in the Middle East: That confrontation in the form Of "Operation Desert Storm." Let's thank the Lord for His concern In granting them a safe return, While praying for an end to war, So peace can reign forevermore.
